

My Dear Galiti,
adar h'tashsab

bs"d t"z

If you are reading this letter, it means that something has happened to me.

This morning we were informed that the mission planned yesterday will, with the Almighty's help, take place today. I told you that the mission had been changed and was not to be carried out as planned – I didn't want to worry you, my darling. It was very hard for me not to tell you the truth, but I preferred it this way than for you go crazy with worry. "meshanin mipney hashalom".

My beloved, on one hand I feel that there is nothing more that I want in this world than to be with you - to love you and to establish a home and a family with you. But on the other hand there isn't anything that I want more than to be a part of this military operation and strike those terrorists a blow so strong, that they would never again even consider carrying out a terrorist attack. In order to do this there is a price that we must be pay. I am willing to pay the price.

Don't be angry with me my love, but at moments like this, your feelings for "Klal Yisrael" (All Israel) is the feeling that is supposed to guide you right now - and you must relate to this evil, as if your private life does not exist. Soldiers of King David's army would free their wives from marriage before going into battle. (See L'Aminut Itanu, part D).

My pretty one, I love you so much and my only sadness is the fact that you will be sorry that I am not the one to who will be there to make you happy. I therefore ask you, my angel, to be happy! You must be happy, you must love, and you must blossom – that is what you deserve. I will forever watch over you from above and I will make sure that you'll meet the person who'll make you even happier than I could have made you.

Don't forget my darling – everything is for the best. And if that is what the Almighty chose, then that is what has to be. What is left for us is to accept it with love.

I will love you forever. Know that you are always on my mind, only you. You are on my mind in these moments, and I know that at the moment when what is going to happen, happens, it will be you that I'll be thinking of. I will leave this world with the knowledge that I was as happy as I could possibly have been – and that was because of you. Know that you made me as happy as a person could be, and you made me achieve that of which I had only previously dreamed. I love you my darling and thank you for all the good and all the happiness that you brought me while we were together. Actually it is not that we were together, but we are always together - before we came to this world and after we leave it, we are and always will be together. Remember this, darling, that we are always, always together because the root of our souls is one.

"Col man deavid rachmana latov avid" - Everything is for the best, also this. I promise you that where I am, it is the most wonderful place that exists. I am not suffering and I have no regrets. My one sorrow is for the grief of those left behind – you, my family, and my friends. Spread the message, my darling "don't despair – be happy always". That is what I ask of you, even if it is difficult. I know that I can ask this of you, because I know the happiness and joy that shines from within you always and with which I fell in love, and which drew me to you when I saw you for the first time.

My dearest, my beloved, I love you and will always love you. Just promise me that you will continue onward and will not allow Sdom to be the victor - you are the victor, and that it is how it should be and that is right to be.

I love you forever – for all eternity and I am always with you.

Gadi
